

Activities to do in the Park: The interactive blackboards

When exploring the park, you might not only marvel about the sculpture—their material, the technique that was used, the meaning, the message, and the position—but also about the name.

How would you name it?

Being an explorer of the Sculpture Park, discovering art in unexpected places—how could you name your discoveries?

What does it remind you of?

Who would you dedicate it to?

Observe! Be Bold! Rename!

Throughout the park you will find poles with “interactive blackboards”.

Make use of them!

Contemplate on the artwork and make your suggestion on how you would name it.

Read how other visitors experienced the work.